yes bob, we need to document the ToAscii in the SDK if it is one of those calls which our apps guys use--which they do.

markwa, please make sure this gets documented in the sdk.

Lisa, you should handle having some sort of note in the DDK that DDK functions SHOULD NOT be used in apps.   See bob if you have any questions.

Thx,   Jody

Two constants need to be defined in Windows.h:

  WEP_SYSTEMEXIT (system shutdown in progress)
  WEP_FREE_DLL   (DLL use count is zero)

I don't know what the numerics values are; DavidW should know.

These two constants are already·documented in the Guide to Programming chapter on DLLs.

The above is nice work!

Please keep in mind, however, that we still have not dealt with making public the internal functions being used by Apps.

I am about 95% complete on this task as well. The current tally indicates
